

Art of Living

Art fascinated him since his childhood in the form of wood and Stone. They remained source of his inspiration for his designs, says Shri S. Manjunathaacharya, Master of M/s. Hoysala Shilpakala Kutir, a production house of stone wood and metal carving.

Shri Manjunathaacharya came to know about PMEGP Scheme from a friend . He availed bank loan for the project cost of Rs.6.00 lakh from Canara Bank under the PMEGP Scheme. Since then he never looked back due to mastery of his art in diverse materials like wood, stone and metal, with his dedication his unit has progressed rapidly .

Thanks to PMEGP, his unit is fully equipped studio to play and experiment and work in bronze, steel, wood, stone and more, he creates masterpieces everyday.

The turnover of his enterprise has reached to Rs.35.00 lakh per annum and providing employment to another 13 persons.
