

Welding your ambitions

The importance of iron and steel among other materials is well known for industrialization and contribution towards the national economy. Everybody in the country is aware of the benefits offered by steel.

Ex-serviceman of the Indian Army, Shri Hans Raj with two years experience in the activity of welding work, was sharp enough to know that all industries depend on iron & steel for their structure, machinery and raw material requirement. He established his unit M/s. "Ganga Steel and Fabrication Works" by availing a bank for the project cos loan of Rs.4.89 lakh from Punjab National Bank.

Practical knowledge, understanding of steel material and know-how essential for the growth of the industry has helped him to grow in this industry enormously.

The enterprise has got recognition in their line of business within a short period due to their hard work and touched an annual turnover of Rs. 27.00 lakh by
